

SECOND HARVEST
of the Greater Valley

2021 | ANNUAL REPORT

Letter from the CEO

This last year has seen significant fluctuations happening at the food bank. With the need for food remaining high in our community, donations from many corporate grocery partners dropped, leaving SHGV in the position to purchase significantly more food. Compounding the challenges of buying more food, other variables such as inflation of food costs, supply chain delays, and shortages of staple items have created a greater strain to meet the needs of the community.

Despite the challenges, SHGV remains steadfast to ensure nobody goes hungry. In addition to the tremendous staff here at the food bank, the volunteer network is critical to the operation of distributing food to those who need it most. SHGV has amazing individual volunteers, corporate volunteer groups and many agency volunteers working tirelessly to ensure those in need receive food that is essential.

As 2022 moves forward, SHGV has a spirit of reinvention to ensure people are being served and hunger is an afterthought. We also want better understand why the need for hunger relief exists in our community. SHGV has big plans to reshape programs to outreach more into underserved areas, connect more with local schools, and create sustainable ways for SHGV to provide food that helps people live healthier and more enriching lives. Stay tuned for great things to come from the SHGV team!

Sincerely,
Keenon J Krick, CEO

Fresh Food 4 Kids

This program provides children and their families the opportunity to receive fresh food, dry goods, and other supplemental groceries. Fresh Food 4 Kids provides schools the opportunity to feed their families in a way that makes sense to them.

Mobile Fresh

Bridging the gap between fresh food and our neighbors in need. Mobile Fresh heads out to the community and provides participants with 30-40 pounds of fresh groceries and dry goods.

Senior Brown Bag

More than just groceries our SBB also provides a sense of purpose and belonging. Each senior enrolled in the program receive groceries twice a month that takes the needs of our most fragile population into account. We also offer home delivery for home-bound seniors.

Pantry Partners

Our Pantry partners are the boots on the ground in our continued efforts against hunger. Food pantries are set up across both counties to meet the needs of participants in the most efficient way possible. Our pantries are run by dedicated volunteers.

Partner Distribution Organizations (PDO's)

We are proud to have four organizations that provide necessary food support in the foot hills and Merced.
